The first four slides can be printed as posters for presentation to the class or shown using a computer. The teachers first discusses the story with the class and then asks the class to write the story. The slides 6-10 are printed with the pictures for the children to write their stories.