

The Oxford
Education
Deanery

Oxford Education Deanery Climate and Nature Collaborative

Thursday 11 June to Friday 12 June 2025

In person at the Department of Education, University of Oxford, and the Oxford University Museum of Natural History

Programme At A Glance

Date	Event details
Thurs 11 June	Arrive at Oxford University Museum of Natural History and register
	Conference overview and welcome
	Cross-curricular frameworks: ways for every key stage and class to include climate and nature education Led by Prof Alison Kitson (UCL)
	Lunch
	Working groups: subject outlines and starting curriculum projects
	Tea, coffee & networking
	Practical approaches to natural history education Led by Sarah Lloyd (OUMNH)

	School student voices: What matters to us in nature and climate education Oxfordshire students
	Close of day 1
	Dinner at Trinity College

Date	Event details
Fri 12 June	Arrive at 15 Norham Gardens and register
	Coping with complex climate and nature emotions Led by Drs Megan Murray-Pepper and Travis Fuchs
	Break
	Best practices for climate and nature pedagogy Led by Oxford Education Deanery Sustainability Team
	Lunch
	Subject-specific working groups: refine and present curriculum projects In collaboration with University experts
	Break

Net-zero education - an Oxford University project

Led by Prof Steve Puttick (Oxford)

Close of day 2. Optional evening networking

Programme subject to change. Confirmed speakers and additional session details will be announced closer to the event.